Life's Journey, a Coalition for Action, is a local group consisting of a number of organizations and individuals involved in end-of-life care. A member of Florida Partnership for End-of-Life Care, Life's Journey members share information, knowledge and resources with professionals and the community. Led by JoAnne King, LCSW, of Hospice of Volusia/Flagler, Life's Journey has contributed to improving our community's knowledge and understanding of the final period of life. The Florida Partnership for End-of-Life-Care is funded in part by a Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Grant, and one of its missions is to foster successful local coalitions like Life's Journey.

Life's Journey's Vision: Honoring life through informed end-of-life choices.

Life's Journey's Mission: To enhance our community's experience of life by honoring and acknowledging death as an inevitable part of the journey, equally deserving of dignity, choice, comfort and love.

One goal of Life's Journey involves educating the public as to end-of-life issues. Life's Journey members actively participate in seminars and programs for groups and the public as a whole. As part of this effort, it maintains a Speaker's Bureau to match speakers on topics related to its mission. Groups or organizations wishing to locate a speaker may contact my office for information. The group will have a table at the upcoming County Benefits Fair for County government employees, and will put on a presentation at the event as well. It has set up a series of presentations called "Only Human" Town Hall Meetings at which information will be presented to the public. And it has also supplied speakers for a series of presentations being put on by the local Quality of Life Club. It also created a Brochure called "A Journey", which describes the end of life as part of the journey from birth to death.

For additional information on Life's Journey, contact my office and we will direct you to the contact person.
